Abstract

This article is dedicated to the problems that arise in the teaching and learning of foreign languages and scientific research aimed at finding their solutions , as well as their application in practice. However, use of modern techniques to solve these problems.

Keywords: techniques, foreign languages, scientific, innovation

Introduction

Nowadays, the demand for foreign languages is increasing all over the world. Along with this, Uzbekistan is also paying a lot of attention to this aspect. The issue of teaching foreign languages with the help of innovative devices and their wider application in society is being raised to the highest level in educational institutions. Based on this, the Presidential Decree on the further improvement of the "Foreign Languages" teaching system, was adopted December 10 ,2012 year and in accordance with paragraph 571 of the Presidential Decree of May 19, 2021, "The activity of popularizing the study of foreign languages in the Republic of Uzbekistan will enter a qualitatively new stage." The decision on the measures of withdrawal" is being signed and implemented.(Methodological model of the Ministry of Public Education magazine, 2019 53)

Discussion and results:

In order to further increase interest in foreign languages among young people, scientific-practical conferences and conventions are being organized in educational institutions and enlightenment centers under them. Experts are providing advice and assistance in studying the problems and shortcomings that arise in them and finding solutions to them. In addition, practical work is being done on the problems that arise in the course of teaching. For example, in connection with the implementation of the decision of 2012, during the years of independence, more than 51,700 foreign language teachers were trained, multimedia textbooks on English, German and French for grades 5 and 9 of general education schools, electronic resources for learning English in primary grades more than 5,000 classrooms were prepared and equipped in schools, colleges and lyceums. (2012. 10 december Presidentl Decree) One of the problems that arise in teaching languages in educational institutions is that the textbooks are not at the required level, and the newly published ones are more complicated for some students. I can say that if the textbooks are designed according to their age, then why can they struggle? the question arises. Regrettably, if we consider that the lessons from the first grades, that is, from the 1st grade, are not taught according to the state education standard, on the other hand, there are not enough conditions in the classrooms to practice all the methods included in the textbook. For example, there is a lack of headphones and similar techniques for exercises that should be done to improve listening skills. It is appropriate to say that the government is doing enough to solve these problems. In order to equip the rooms with innovative devices and further increase the knowledge and experience of teachers, in addition to this, training classes are being conducted by studying the experiences of foreign countries and using their methods. Also, for the purpose of exchange of experience, foreign teachers have been attracted to schools and institutes in our country, and their experience is being studied and applied.

Also, students face many problems in learning a foreign language. In particular, if we talk about the example of the English la Multidisciplinary Research Journal, 10(5), .English language, they have difficulties in the process of forming skills such as listening, writing, speaking and reading comprehension. For example: according to statistics, writing and speaking skills are lower in our country. The reason is that we do not have enough of that atmosphere, that is, the English atmosphere. This is due to the low level of foreign language knowledge of many people. It would be appropriate if we increase the number of such areas, for example, if we organize a speaking club in educational institutions or trainings with a native speaker once a month.

Conclusion

In conculusion, teaching foreign languages, their wider application to young people, the use of modern methods and equipment in teaching and learning helps to increase work efficiency, knowing zero languages is a requirement of today. As Natalya Kiraieva said: "Either we prepare for life or exams. We choose the first one."
