foreign languages. As a result, skills are formed to be able to choose the most effective methods to achieve their goals. In this case, the use of several methods of teaching and learning gives an effective result. Training is carried out in small stages and it is based on the student's existing cognitive system. 2. As time progresses, there is more and more innovation in every area. Different styles are also emerging in language learning. In the study of the English language, a good result will be a gradual study based on the potential and level, age of the learner. Such students are divided into groups based on teaching at the initial stage, teaching at the secondary stage, and teaching at the higher stage. For each stage, a special program is developed by the teacher.

At the initial stage, an important emphasis is placed on pronunciation. Harmer notes that " the first requirement for those who know their native language during the conversation is pronunciation. At the beginning of the learning process, the teacher should focus on the pronunciation of the student. While grammar and vocabulary are considered the main ones, it is all useless if the speaker's pronunciation is incorrect. Owners of the original language can understand what is the purpose of speech even with grammatical errors if the speaker pronounces the words correctly. In the middle stage of learning English, it is necessary to use methods that will help the main focus more on the volume of texts and increase thinking, speech activity, and initiative in reading comprehension. In training conducted in the educational process, sufficient attention should be paid to the formation of speech skills and the development of social flexibility. In addition, the success of each education lesson largely depends on the correct Organization of training. The lesson should be based on the creative cooperation of the teacher and the student. Only then will students be able to think independently, and freely, and their will is brought up.

According to him, textbooks were created for students of schools, lyceums, and professional colleges. It is impossible to carry out this process without training rooms, computers, players, and CDs following these requirements. Listening down is one of the most important parts of language learning. In doing so, the reader is required to pay attention to the pronunciation of the speaker at one time and the observance of grammatical rules, vocabulary, and its meanings. Teaching and learning a foreign language using modern technologies is one of the most effective methods. Today, teaching in schools through interactive games is becoming a tradition. It is known that warning conducted based on various games helps to demonstrate students 'capabilities, concentrate, improve their knowledge and skills, and improve their competence in language learning. In the process of games, the student is more interested in this activity than in a simple lesson and freely operates. One of the most important requirements for English lessons is to teach students to think independently. Today, English teachers use innovational techniques, relying on the experience of Educators in the United States, and England. Examples of this are "cheerful riddles (Merry ridges)" teaching riddles to students is important in teaching English, they learn words that are unfamiliar to them and find a thoughtful riddle answer. "Quick response" helps to strengthen the topic and increase the effectiveness of mastering new words when a lesson is conducted through the game method "Quick answer". While the Story Chain method helps to grow the oral speech of students in the story Chain, The When Pictures Speak method is much more convenient when teaching English, while the student helps in the development of students 'oral speech, using subject-specific pictures for this. "Question potatoes" -" Quiz Cards " are distributed according to the number of students, and all students have the opportunity to participate in the lesson at one time, which saves time. Each innovation technology has its advantages. As a result of the use of innovational methods in English lessons, the logical thinking abilities of students develop, their speech becomes more eloquent, and the skill of quick and correct answers is formed. Such methods instill in the reader a passion for knowledge. The student seeks a thorough preparation for the lessons. Currently, in the process of teaching English, the problem of the formation of creative abilities in adolescents acquires special relevance. It is looking for ways to solve the problem and is being taught in stages. The first stage begins with the first stage Primary Education Level (grades 1-4). At this stage, children will have long-term memory. They can be taught through games. And they quickly learn songs at that age. The second stage will be the average level of education (grades 5-9) students of this stage have already reached the level of knowledge of a foreign language. The use of interactive methods in teaching a foreign language increases the effectiveness of language acquisition. Nowadays, knowledge of a foreign language is of great importance, when studying it, the following method is also effective, namely, viewing and displaying Englishlanguage films and films in colloquial speech.

In conclusion, it should be noted that the effectiveness of any methods and approaches is assessed by the ability of both parties to express the right opinion on the aspirations of students and teachers and the process.
