ANNOTATION:

It is clearly evident that, the role of education in the every cite of society is developing day by day. Education is a human right and is central to achieving many other sustainable development outcomes and incomes .

The quality of main education gives children and young aged generation the knowledge and skills they need to be confronted by daily life challenges, and get advantage of economic and learning opportunities during lifelong times. It is also a key driver for reducing poverty, fostering economic growth, achieving gender equality, and social and financial development.

To acquire the details of education can improve the economical and spiritual outcomes of citizens and clarify the prospects of future generations, especially in developing countries and developed countries. However to achieve these goals is complicated and complex . Policymakers and the leader of scientists have implemented different type of measures to rise access to education but the results are mixed and variable. For example , adult and child literacy programs are a vehicle to improve literacy and numeracy abilities but, a majority of developing countries have abandoned them as they do not achieve their prefatory objectives.

Keywords: knowledgeable , marketing, reducing poverty, the property of education.

Humankind has faced to different type of occasions from primitive communities and centuries that were solely knowed to the fight for to live without any needs in a harsh and unforgiving environment. Primitive people used to fear and worried about everything that was mysterious or unknown, as well as phenomena they did not understand. However, new standards and new life condition have finally been adopted when it comes to human rights and rules. According to the UN's Declaration of Principles on Tolerance: "Education is the most powerful means of preventing intolerance. The primitive step in diversity education is to teach and explain people what their shared rights and freedoms are, so that they may be respected, and to elevate the will to protect those of others."

An educated and literate person is able to better interpret their environment, but also to understand their rights thanks to the knowledge they demanded in school. Simply writing, it is much harder and difficult to manipulate an educated, well-knowledgable person than someone who lacks literacy. Acquiring new knowledge helps people to critically approach any kind of data and new resources, because such people primarily believe in facts when they pass judgements about anything. Thus, well-educated people helps to their relatives, friends and children better understand social conflicts and the needs of others.

A majority of well educated people improves their life of a community

Education play crucial role for ensuring better job opportunities in the cites that are always searching for experts. We are considering about well-paid professions and jobs, such as programmers, surgeons politicians. The above mentioned professions have an ability to drive the development of a whole community. However, in order to reach the high top of level, it is necessary to continuously invest in the education of both children and adults who want to reskill or upskill. Although quality higher education is synonymous with career success, education is equally crucial in all steps of a person's development and enrichment

The foundations for the development of one's ability and future skills are laid in elementary and highly school, and each subsequent step brings students closer to the ultimate goal – getting a career in a field that fulfills them and give an opportunity them to achieve many goals their full potential. This is how the education system, and efforts of the whole community help to increase and educate young aged people who believe and rely on in themselves. If they make an effort and acquire the right knowledge, they will be in the position to opt a career and job, which in turn opens up a whole range of possibilities for fulfilling their goals such as buying a last model car and luxury house, financial security, a stable family life, etc. Education means long lasting investment in a better life of all people of society.

Education is an essential section of modern life

The development and increase of human can be properly attributed to well educated and enlightened people who drove human society forward. Investing in education raises awareness about many challenges to society, such as global warming, environmental protection and the level of illiteracy.
